

EXHIBIT A

RFA #	Terminology Microsoft Says It Does Not Understand
4, 10, 22	"necessary to properly run" e.g., Vista Home Basic
5, 11, 13	"certified," e.g., as Windows Vista Capable
6, 12	"certification," e.g. in reference to the Windows Vista Capable sticker
6, 12, 16	"properly run," e.g., Vista Home Basic
16, 22	"indicate," e.g. that a PC with a Windows Vista Capable sticker ran only Vista Home Basic
20-21	"certified to work with PCs," e.g., of different versions of Vista
23, 25, 27, 29	"at the time of sale"
23	"explanation as to meaning," e.g., meaning of the sticker
25	"explanation as to the limitations," i.e., of the term Windows Vista Capable
27	"as to the meaning of" in reference to Windows Vista Capable
29	"as to the limitations of" in reference to Windows Vista Capable
31, 33	"display materials for the benefit of consumers"
31	"meaning of" in reference to Windows Vista Capable
33	"limitations of" in reference to Windows Vista Capable
45, 46	"maintain consumer demand"
62	"Vista Upgrade EULA"
64	"the OEM License Agreement"
76-79	"monitored," e.g., OEM advertising materials
80-83	"established procedures"
80, 82-83	"minimize the likelihood of errors"
81	"the likelihood of errors"
84-85, 88-89	"there had been concern or opinion within Microsoft," i.e., as to the misleading nature of the sticker
86-87, 90-91	"there had been concern or opinion expressed or otherwise made known to Microsoft," i.e., as to the misleading nature of the sticker
92-93	"Vista features"
97	"secured rights," i.e., of a contractor who published Windows Vista The Official Magazine